We are pleased to provide you with information about free articles and the table of contents of Hypertension. Want to keep receiving these valuable messages in your inbox? Go to http://sci.scientific-direct.net/wl.html in order to find out how.

Editor-in-Chief: Anna F. Dominiczak, MD

Hypertension publishes scientific investigation of the highest quality in the broad field of blood pressure regulation and pathophysiology, clinical treatment, and prevention of hypertension.

The free articles listed below are listed in the April issue of Hypertension:

Chin Emain Trikpey et

Hypertension in Pregnancy and Cardiovascular Risk mgynu v. Aisnes et al.

Ján Rosa et al.

Did you know that all AHA Scientific Statements and Guidelines as well as "Editor's Picks" articles are freely accessible?

Click here to learn more about the Journal and to subscribe. Hypertension ranks #1 among all hypertension journals and has an Impact Factor of 6.294 (Journal Citation Reports ®2015, published by The Thomson Corporation).

View the Table of Contents and sign up for free eTOC Alerts.

e-TOCs are a great way to keep informed about what's publishing in Hypertension.

Submit your hypertension- and nephrology-related paper today! Submission to first decision is 2.3 weeks and time from acceptance to publication is 4 weeks for online publication and 7.9 weeks for print publication.