

Eszter Mária Horváth MD, PhD
Budapest, Hungary

Associate professor at the Department of Physiology, Faculty of Medicine, Semmelweis University, Budapest, Hungary. Research interests focus on the pathogenesis and potential novel treatment strategies for vascular dysfunction related to inflammatory, metabolic, and endocrine alterations, with a particular emphasis on the role of oxidative-nitrative and cellular stress. She is an active member of the European Society of Hypertension, involved in the Young Investigators Group and the Working Group on Hypertension in Women, as well as a member of the Youth Committee of the Hungarian Society of Hypertension.